FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TEAM WONTUMI CONDEMNS INSULTS AND PERSONAL ATTACKS IN THE ONGOING INTERNAL CAMPAIGN

The attention of Team Wontumi has been drawn to a series of unfortunate videos circulating on TikTok by a lady known as “Boya,” in which several respected members of our Campaign Management Team, including Hon. Archibold Cobbina, Director of Field Operations and Delegate Mobilization, Hon. Moses Anim, Director of Political Affairs, Nana Fianko, Director of Special Operations, among others, have been subjected to unwarranted insults and personal attacks.

By examining the public social media activities and affiliations of the said individual, it is not difficult for objective observers to determine the political tendency and Chairmanship bid she appears to support.

It is still early days in this internal campaign season, and Team Wontumi remains firmly committed to a campaign based on ideas, vision, competence, and Party unity, not insults, intimidation, or needless character assassination. Our approach reflects the very principles of issue-based campaigning consistently espoused by our Flagbearer, Dr. Mahamudu Bawumia.

We therefore urge the general public and Party faithful to disregard the contents of these unfortunate videos and reject attempts to introduce hostility and division into our internal democratic processes.

We also respectfully call on the opposing campaign, whose sympathizers and surrogates appear to be behind these needless attacks, to rein in their supporters and ensure that this contest remains healthy, respectful, and focused on the collective interest of the New Patriotic Party.

As a Party preparing towards victory in 2028, we must all remember that unity remains our greatest strength. We cannot afford to destroy one another today and expect to build a united front tomorrow.

We further call on all well-meaning members of our great Party to openly condemn such conduct before it escalates into something more damaging to our internal cohesion.

Team Wontumi is proud to be a broad-based movement with membership and support drawn from the campaigns of almost all the presidential aspirants who contested in the historic 31st January Presidential Primary of our Party. This diversity reflects our commitment to inclusion, reconciliation, and Party unity.

Our team remains focused, resolute, and fully committed to engaging delegates respectfully and democratically as we continue our quest to convince the overwhelming majority of delegates to support the candidacy of Chairman Wontumi for National Chairman of the New Patriotic Party.
